

FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1883.

BREAKFAST BRIEFS.

A complete collection of news items and happenings of the day.

Warmer days.

January about played out.

Why don't the city council tax dogs.

The city council had no quorum yesterday.

A great many people are going to Mineral City.

The weather and real estate are leaping up together.

The festive tramp is making himself scarce hereabouts.

Lodgeth will soon take a dose of Las Vegas justice.

Fed Benitez is busy packing his jewelry for shipment.

Look out for a double header boom in a few weeks.

Whether it is nobler to be a councilman or not is the question.

Beware of the lightning rod man, he will soon be in our midst again.

The GAZETTE has more paid subscribers than any paper in the territory.

Pay the police. If they are inefficient discharge them. But pay them any way.

M. Whiteman's new store on Railroad avenue, will soon be ready for occupancy.

The only time the street cars make good speed is when a person is trying to get on.

Oscar McConnell claims his horse will trot a mile in five minutes. Don't believe it.

Calvin Fisk still reports big real estate sales. He will soon be rich enough to advertise.

Our traveling correspondent "Rambler," will soon continue his interesting letters on Old Mexico.

Uncle Nat Wright has forgot more about railroads than some men know. Ask him and see if this is not true.

Don't forget the ladies sociable at the residence of Mrs. Jeff. Reynolds this evening. It will be a pleasant affair.

Wm. Carl, of the Schooner saloon, has on draught some of the best native wine that can be procured in the territory.

Sheriff Hilarie Romero who has been quite ill for several weeks, is now convalescent, though he is not yet able to leave his room.

A freighter yesterday brought into town a load of lumber, that measured out the immense amount of 3,300 feet. It was a monster.

The ladies of the Methodist church ought not to forget the sewing circle meeting this afternoon, at the residence of A. D. Higgins.

The Optic is taking the numerous columns of the Boston Star and appropriating it to their own use. Should think Russ would know better.

Real estate is on the boom. Yesterday Fitz sold a house and lot for $850 and three lots for $300 each, total $1,450. It begins to look like old times.

The saloon and dance hall men have formed an association, and will test the legality of the ordinance, which compels them to pay fines, taxes, etc.

The College band will be re-organized soon under the efficient care of Prof. Marcellino. This is the third year of existence of this musical organization.

Mrs. W. A. Auble is slowly recovering from a stroke of apoplexy on Christmas day. The many friends of the family will be glad to learn of her complete recovery at an early date.

Daniel Harrigan, formerly of Nutt station, has opened a place in Deming. Mr. Harrigan is a live and energetic man and makes money. He will keep his place at Nutt station the same as before.

An extra train will leave the depot at 8:15, this evening, local time, for the Hot Springs. This is to accommodate those who desire to attend the ball to be held there to-night. Jump aboard and enjoy yourself.

J. B. Martin &amp; Co., have opened a carpenter shop at 401 Railroad avenue. These gentlemen are masters of the trade. Mr. Martin having been foreman for many years of a large establishment in Cleveland, Ohio.

J. W. Hansen, the Bridge street shoemaker, is having a lively run of business. He is well known in this city and people like his make of boots and will always patronize him, if they once give him a chance to measure their hoofs.

When Schuster's store in Chihuahua was robbed the firm offered $250 reward, and in two hours afterward Hoagland and his companions in crime were arrested and all the property recovered. Talk about loose government in Mexico! This beats anything in the police line that has ever transpired in Las Vegas, and we claim to be par excellence in these matters.

COUNCILMAN SHUPP'S REASON FOR NOT ATTENDING THE COUNCIL MEETING.

What He Told a Reporter of the Gazette About the Matter.

Yesterday afternoon, a reporter of this paper, interviewed councilman W. H. Shupp, on the slight misunderstanding that seems to exist in the council.

The first question asked was: "Mr. Shupp, have you and Mr. Chavez resigned from the council?"

He answered, "we have not."

Then the scribe inquired: "Why are your offices declared vacant?"

Answer—"Because we were kicked out."

"Had the council any right to fire you out of your position?" was the next query.

Mr. Shupp replied, "that if the council was legally entitled to act they had a perfect right to declare the offices vacant."

Then the scribe put the leading question. "Why did you refuse to attend the council meetings, and if you did not wish to attend the council meetings, or take part in the proceedings why didn't you resign?"

This question, replied our informant, has been asked many times by some of the leading citizens of Las Vegas. I will give you the same answer that I did them. I did not think I had any business there. I do not think I have any right to the office of councilman, and consequently cannot resign or attend the meetings of the council without doing so, in my opinion, illegally, and this I would not do."

"Do you not think there is a question as to the legality of the late election," inquired the interviewer.

There may be, replied Mr. Shupp, but if there is any, it is due solely to the neglect of the council, and if we hold over, it would look as if we were anxious to defraud the people out of their just rights, and that we might have done this on purpose, when for my part I suppose a quorum would be present to attend to this matter as it should have been done. Now that my successor has been sworn, and qualified, I do not propose to have anything more to do with it."

"Does Mr. Chavez coincide with your views was our last question?"

"I believe he does," answered Mr. Shupp.

This ended the interview.

Another Mineral Discovery.

A large body of rich looking ore has been discovered about four miles southwest of San Geronimo and about twenty-eight miles west of this city. Mr. A. W. Jewell, an old miner, has located the Black Prince claim in that district, and has had a force of men at work for the past two weeks developing the property. A shaft thirty feet deep has been sunk on a true fissure vein of from six to eighteen feet wide, and although no assays have yet been made the ore is without doubt rich in both silver and copper. In conversation with a miner who has just returned from this discovery the reporter learned that the lead is evidently the same that shows up at Cooper City, on the other side of the range, where a smelter is being erected to treat the same class of ore found in the Black Prince. Located as it is in the same range of mountains as Mineral Hill, although about ten miles south of that camp, it begins to look as though the only thing needed to bring the mineral resources west of Las Vegas to the front is capital; and as Mr. Jewell is financially able to conduct operations on a large scale, and intends to do so. Good news may be expected from that section shortly.

51-1-4 Instead of 51-4.

In speaking of the assay of ore from the Evangelina mine in the Cooperlode, made by Professor Robertson, in yesterday morning's issue, the type made us give the result as 54 ounces of silver instead of 51 1/2 ounces as it should have been. This assay was made as a test of the correctness of the assays which had been reported from other quarters, and proves the richness of the camp beyond question. The result of the assay is as follows:

"Strong trace of gold, 5 1/2 ounces of silver, and 8 1/2 per cent copper."

The true value of the ore according to the above assay, is about $150 per ton, which is much greater than the value of the ore taken from the famous Santa Rita copper mine in Grant county. The geological formation of the country west of this city is very similar to the mineral bearing region of Grant county, and the great probability is that this section is equally rich in the precious metals.

Mrs. Edward Rosenwald died at Trinidad yesterday morning at 7 o'clock. Mr. J. Rosenwald and Mrs. E. Rosenwald left on yesterday morning's train to attend the obsequies. The deceased was 21 years of age and was greatly beloved by all who knew her.

The Little Casino continues to enlarge its trade. Miners, prospectors, ranchers, mill men, and people generally, can get the very best of all kinds at reasonable rates. Danziger is affable, and treats his customers white.

The county commissioners met yesterday and ordered Hilarie Romero, the ex-sheriff, to turn over all the books and accounts belonging to his office to Sheriff Esquivel.

Birdie Smith Tries to Fly Across the Dark River, but Her Wings Were Clipped Too Close.

At one o'clock this morning Dr. Cunningham was called to attend a patient on dance hall hill on the west side. He found a notorious demi-monde by the name of Birdie Smith in an unconscious state from the effects of a large dose of morphine. By means of the generous use of emetics and playing a double action stomach pump, with untiring energy, the would-be angel was brought to life. She is one of the fascinating blondes that skirts over the dance hall horizon like a June bug in the dewy month of January. But heretofore she has kept away from the fire and has not yet got injured like the proverbial moth that bothers the editors of a summer midnight. It seems she had some trouble with her heavy or solid man (we don't know which is the proper name) and took this method of flying from the evils she was compelled to endure to those she knew not of. The latest fly that Birdie made was to forsake the dance hall and spread her little wings in the direction of the house of ill-fame formerly occupied by Chata Baca, where it is hoped she will succeed better in the next flight that she undertakes to the heavenly shore, and give the anxious editor a chance to give a specimen of his brilliant genius.

A MURDERER AN EDITOR.

Hugh Marshall Under an Assumed Name, in Chihuahua.

Many of our readers will remember the notorious Hugh Marshall, who was arrested in this territory on a requisition from the governor of Colorado. Before he was identified he made himself obnoxious to the miners of Cerillos and Socorro, for which he was driven out of both places, and came near being hung in the latter by the vigilance committee. When first captured he was placed in the Santa Fe jail, but through some technicality of law, the well known criminal lawyer, Edgar Cayless, got him out. Afterwards he was re-arrested at Las Lunas and taken to Albuquerque, where he managed to escape.

The crime for which a reward of $300 was offered for his apprehension was the cold blooded homicide of a miner who he deceived into the mountains on a pretense of showing a good prospect. But when he got him a long distance from the camp he shot him in the back of the head and took a large sum of money from his person. Marshall now turns up in Chihuahua, where he edited the Chihuahua Mail, under the name of H. H. Hunteton, and claimed to be a mining engineer. We are glad to state that at present he is not connected with that paper and probably never will be again. Among his other positions, which he claims to hold, is that of special correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune and Albuquerque Journal. He makes it a point to fleece every American that crosses his path, and he is a good one at this business, being a natural born confidence man. He took advantage of his position, as editor-in-chief of the Chihuahua Mail, to induce our correspondent, Mr. C. C. Hall, to introduce him to several prominent tourists, (among whom was Don Lorenzo Lopez, of this city,) and collect subscriptions from each one to the amount of four dollars. But none of them have ever received a paper. We suppose the Mail will right this wrong, for which they are responsible as soon as they learn the facts in the case. Hunteton is a man of about five feet ten inches in height. Head covered with a shock of red hair, long flowing whiskers of the same color. The Chihuahua police should look after him in time, as he is sure to make them trouble. Nothing is too vile or cowardly for him to do.

There is probably no phase of life more varied than that of a newspaper reporter. Some time up and sometimes down. During his raising state he has a chance to see the falsity of human nature. A man will pass him by when his lucky star is setting, but let the reporter go back to his old place, and this same man, if fortune has frowned upon him, will come like a whipped spaniel, and claim on the ground of old friendship to be kept out of the paper when he has had his little racket, which if exposed might disgrace him. The writer has a case like the above in his mind's eye.

HEADQUARTERS THOMAS POST No. 21, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

Las Vegas, Jan. 26, '83.

Special Order, No. 1.

I. All members of Thomas Post No. 21, who can without injury to their business vocations, assemble at post headquarters promptly at 1 o'clock p. m., railroad time, to act as an escort to the east bound train, of the remains of our late comrad, Atwood Crosby, of Waterville, Maine, who was on the staff of the commander of the department of Maine.

II. The officers of the post will provide themselves with side arms, and the comrades with muskets. By order of J. J. FITZGERRELL.

Pest Commander.

The shaving parlor stand carries the best cigars on the west side. A trial will prove this. Two doors west of the GAZETTE office. 1-25-1m

PROTECTION THAT PROTECTS.

PERSONAL.

Robert Woeten is in from his saw-mill.

F. W. Potter, Esq., left for the east yesterday.

Bishop Dunlop was a passenger on the south bound train.

John S. Bagg, the veteran musician, is in from Jewell's camp.

Tom Walton, the genial proprietor of the Mora hotel, is in the city.

Andres Senna, Esq., of Alamosa, is transacting business in the city.

Rev. Thomas Harwood went home to Tiptonville on yesterday's express.

A. H. Langille, of Hutchinson, Kansas, is taking in the sights of Las Vegas.

Charles Wright and Mr. Dacy returned from the mountains yesterday evening.

Don Pedro Valdez came into the city yesterday in time to catch the north bound train.

Geo. F. Robinson and H. A. Garrett, U. S. A., Fort Union, are registered at the Plaza hotel.

J. J. Bransfield, W. D. Walden and M. A. Bransfield, of Clinton, Iowa, are late arrivals in the city.

S. W. Horner and Daniel Craven, two prominent sheep men from Baird, Texas, are stopping in the city.

E. J. Wilcox arrived from his ranch at Fort Sumner yesterday. He will remain in the city several weeks.

Captain J. W. Barney had his ankle dislocated by falling down stairs. He will be up in the course of a year or two.

G. A. McCumber, came up from Bell ranch yesterday. He reports but little snow below Hays' ranch and stock doing well.

B. R. Bates, assistant superintendent of the associated press, came down from Denver yesterday and went out to the Hot Springs. He will be in town a few days.

J. S. Elston will start Monday for a trip east. He will purchase a large stock of goods in St. Louis and then pay a visit to his former home in Elmira, New York. He will be absent about two weeks.

A laughable scene was enacted at the round house yesterday afternoon. In painting engines turpentine is used, and a large quantity of waste cotton was saturated with it by the painters. A Mexican picked up some of the prepared waste and departed with it for some uncertain purpose. The last seen of the Mexican was on Nine-mile hill, where he was keeping ahead of the express. Brother Waugh hasn't stopped laughing yet.

Jaramillo-Maxwell Bridal Party.

The Jaramillo-Maxwell bridal party arrived from Fort Sumner yesterday evening. The party consists of J. Jaramillo and wife (the newly wed), Mrs. L. B. Maxwell, Mrs. T. Jaramillo, Mrs. F. Luna, Peter Maxwell and Pablo Beaubien. The party had a long and arduous journey from Fort Sumner to this place. They will remain in this city for a day or so and then continue their journey to Las Lunas.

Be Your Own Landlord.

There is no need continuing a renter all your life. J. J. Fitzgerald the live real estate agent, will sell you a house and lot, or a lot, on long time, payable in monthly installments. The amount required of you will be little. If any more than you have to pay for living in another man's house, with no hopes of ever being his owner. The advantages of living in your house, and collecting rents from yourself, are so many that we can see no excuse for an industrious man paying for improvements upon another's property for years at a stretch, but it is done and without reason. Yes, there are two or three reasons for it. The renter has no ambition to recline under his own vine and fig-tree. He don't wish to be a tax payer. He has no disposition to improve his own property and to see com-
